Attention is called particularly to the fact that U-21 is operating a thousand miles from her base, which is a greater radius of activity than hitherto was believed possible. The argument is advanced that what already has happened to small coasters may tomorrow happen to the great English liners.

Undaunted by Rough Weather.

DUBLIN, via London, February 1 .-Rough weather has no terrors for he German submarine," declared the captain of the steamer Leinster in tellng of his boat's narrow escape from a German submarine when off the Kish light vessel, opposite the mouth to Dublin bay.

"When we sighted her late Sunday afternoon just outside the entrance to Dublin bay the weather was so rough that not a single passenger was on that not a single passenger was on deck," the captain said. "The submarine approached us while she was submerged, but we sighted her emerging can was to be the first witness to be merged, but we sighted her emerging." merged, but we sighted her emerging less than a mile away. War Officially Reported

French Statement PARIS, February 1, 2:57 p.m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official report on the progress of the war, which reads as

"The day of January 31 was marked, as had been January 30, by artillery fighting, which was particularly spirited in all the northern region. "To the southeast of Ypres the Germans endeavored to attack our trenches to the north of the canal, but this movement was immediately checked by the combined fire of our artillery and infantry.

"Along the entire Aisne front, from the junction of this river with the Oise, as far as Berry-au-Bac, our batteries were successful at certain points in demolishing trenches in course of construction, as well as shelters for machine guns, and in silencing several mine throwers, as well as certain artillery detachments of the enemy.

"In Champagne, to the northeast of Mesnil-les-Hurlus, we perfected our organization in a little forest, which we took possession of the day before yesterday.

"January 31 was relatively calm in the Argonne, where the Germans seem to have suffered heavily in the recent fighting. "There is nothing of interest to report from the fronts in the Woevre district, in Lorraine and in the Vosges."

German Statement BERLIN, Fébruary 1, by wireless to Sayville, L. I.—The official statement, issued today by the German general army headquarters, says: "In the western war theater there is nothing important to report.

"On the East Prussian frontier nothing new occurred. To the southwest of Mlawa, north of the Vistula river (northern Poland) the Russians were driven out of some places which they had occupied the day before.

"On the German front (central Poland), south of the Vistula, the Germans gained further ground.

"To the south of the Pilica river (southern Poland) the German attacks were renewed."

Russian Statements

PETROGRAD, February 1.-A communication issued late last night by the general staff of the Russian army reports some further progress in East Prussia and desperate fighting on the left bank of the Vistula. In the region around Borifmow the Russians claim to have recaptured a trench lost to the Germans the preceding day, and declare that counter attacks of the Germans were repulsed everywhere, except in one of the Russian saps, which the Germans captured. The statement follows: "In the forests to the north of Gumbinnen and Pillkallen our troops, continuing the conflict, have made progress at some points. "On the left bank of the Vistula, January 30, a desperate combat was under way. In the region of Borjimow the Germans, who had captured one of our trenches the preceding day, were attacked by us after nightfall. After an extremely tenacious struggle we succeeded, with the aid of a bayonet charge, in dislodging the enemy from the trench. We almost annihilated two entire companies of Germans, captured three officers and more than sixty soldiers and also took a rapid-firing gun.

"In the course of the day the enemy made a new attempt to drive us from our advanced trenches, but was everywhere repulsed, after a bloody struggle, except in one of our saps, where some elements of the enemy succeeded in establishing themselves.

"An examination of prisoners disclosed the fact that the Germans in their attack of the 28th upon a part of our trenches at Borjimow had employed four regiments of infantry, some of which were composed of "Our artillery on the left bank of the Vistula continued to shell the positions of the enemy with perceptible advantage to us. It demolished a German outpost and some German field works, damaged certain German treaches, put three machine guns out of action and silenced some of the enemy's cannon.

"In the Carpathians-The fighting continues along the front between Mount Dukla and Mount Wyszkow. Generally speaking, our positions along this front are secure. As to the left wing, the front between Nignia Pollanka and Lotevisk, we are progressing satisfactorily, and every day we take some prisoners.

"In Bukowina there has been nothing more than unimportant encounters between advance guards."

The Russians officially announce the occupation of Tabriz, Persia, in communication from the staff of the army in the Caucasus. The official statement says:

"In the fighting below Tabriz the Turks lost four field guns, provisions, munitions and many prisoners. Having been cut off from Tabriz and suffered heavy losses, they took to flight. January 30 we occupied Tabriz.

"Other fronts are without material change."

Austrian Statement

VIENNA, via London, February 1.-The following official statement was issued last night:

There have been vigorous artillery duels on both sides of the Dunajec and Nida rivers. Our artillery, which has been making good practice recently, succeeded yesterday in compelling the enemy, under the severest fire, to evacuate some trenches.

"There have also been artillery engagements on the rest of the Pollsh front. In the Carpathians the day passed quietly."

DR. McKIM SAYS BILLS MENACE PRESS LIBERTY

Religious Controversy Over Proposed Powers Giving Postmaster General Censorship.

Three bills aimed at excluding scandalous, libelous, scurrilous matter, etc. from the mails on the personal veto of the Postmaster General drew a big crowd to the House committee on post offices and post roads today, and toward the close of the protracted hearing the discussion began to have the appearance of a religious controversy. The bills were one by Representative Fitzgerald of New York and two by Representative Gallivan of Massachusetts. These two and Representative Maher of New York argued briefly in favor of the bills, while Rev. Dr. Ran-dolph H. McKim, rector of the Church law.

Representative Finley of South Caroline endeavored to find out what lay behind the bill, but Representative Fitzgerald declared that the Post Office Department could furnish exhibits of the matter complained of. It was not until Representative Maher spoke that he mentioned that Roman Catholics in his district are extremely anxious to curb some of the activities of six publications. He mentioned only two-namely, the Menace and the Yellow Jacket.

Jacket.

"There is no man in this country who believes in the criticism of a religion in coarse and scandalous language," said Representative Gallivan, in favoring his own bill, "and I want to call attention to the fact that distribution of that sort of literature through the mails in the recent campaign resulted in the defeat of forty-eight democrats either at the primaries or at the election. It is time something is done."

the Postmaster General. "The Catholics want protection from these slanderous libels circulated through the mails."
In opposing the bills, Rev. Dr. Mc-Kim said he appeared as an American citizen to represent the views of 300 Washington clergymen incorporated into the Federation of Pastors:
"This legislation is inconsistent with the principles of American liberty," said he, "and constitutes an attack of the freedom of the press. I have no desire to defend the scurrilous and libelous and flithy publications, and would to God there were none, but we should not get at them by striking at the liberty of the press. I would rather see the press free than clean, if to clean it we had to assault liberty."

He called attention to the fact that the courts were open to redress in the case of persons injured by slander and libel.
"The bill is unconstitutional," he con-

FRANK CASE FEBRUARY 23. United States Supreme Court Sets

Date for Oral Argument. The Supreme Court of the United States today advanced the Leo M. Frank habeas corpus case for oral argument February 23, in accordance with the joint request of his counsel and those representing the state of Georgia.

state of Georgia.

Frank is under conviction for the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta (Ga.) factory girl.

C. Wheeler Mangum, sheriff of Fulton county, Ga., walked into the Supreme Court today prepared to make answer to the notice of habeas corpus appeal by Leo M. Frank.

The court explained to the sheriff that formal appearance to the citation or notice of appeal was usually made by attorneys representing the state, but the sheriff wanted to be sure there should be no dereliction of duty charged to him, as the citation was addressed to him in person.
